

3 PRISONERS FLEE 'ESCAPE PROOF' CITY JAIL AFTER CUTTING CELL BARS WITH HACKSAWS

Roosevelt Hikes Silver Price to 77.57 Cents

DOMESTIC METAL BOOSTED TO MEET WORLD ADVANCE

President's Order Provides Second Rise in Pay for Newly-Mined Silver During Present Month.

SEIGNIORAGE RATE SET AT 40 PER CENT

Proclamation Carries Out Terms of London Agreement; Miners Given Benefit of Hike.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(UP)—President Roosevelt tonight boosted the government's buying price for newly-mined domestic silver to 77.57 cents per ounce to meet the steadily advancing silver price in the world's markets.

From December 21, 1933, to April 10, 1935, the government had paid the equivalent of 64.64 cents per ounce for the metal. This was the amount returned to the miner after the government bought silver at its monetary value of $1.29 but subtracted 50 per cent as seigniorage.

On April 10 the seigniorage was cut to 45 per cent, thereby increasing the price to the producer to 71.11 cents per ounce. Tonight the seigniorage was further cut to 40 per cent, making the domestic purchase price the equivalent of 77.57 cents per ounce.

All silver mined on or after April 24, 1935, is affected by the new mining rate set for newly-mined silver by the United States treasury.

The new price for silver was set by President Roosevelt in another proclamation carrying out the London silver agreement which provided that participating nations should accumulate their own domestic silver production and use it for monetary purposes.

The announcement of the presidential proclamation followed another day of wild speculation in the silver markets and a shroud of mystery thrown around the federal government's silver program.

At first it was understood that the treasury would merely pay the "world price" for domestic newly-mined silver but after a hurried consultation with the treasury legal staff it was decided that another proclamation was necessary in order that the domestic newly-mined silver price be advanced to give domestic producers at least as much for their silver as was paid by the government to foreign sellers.

Since the newly-mined silver purchases were inaugurated December 31, 1933, as a step in carrying out the London silver agreement requiring greater use of silver as money, the treasury has purchased $4,552,000,000 of silver.

World-Wide Pact Seen On Textile Mill Hours

U. S. Expected To Support International "Code of Fair Competition," Giving Americans Advantage in Overseas Trade.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—A code—or "international convention"—embracing a cut in foreign textile workers' hours, with a compensating wage increase, would increase the manufacturing costs of textiles abroad. This result, they contended, would place United States textiles in a more favorable position in foreign markets and might result in a decrease in imports.

Tedious Process.
Ratification of the convention, however, was foreseen to be a tedious process. If placed on the program for the 1936 Geneva conference, adoption of the convention there would have to precede submission to legislatures of the 62 member countries. It would be binding upon only those countries which ratified.

By the slim margin of a 12-to-11 vote, the governing body last winter drew up the program for the 1936 Geneva labor conference.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Henry D. Densmore, Massachusetts paper manufacturer, and a still unappointed government representative, will speak for the United States governing body.

Informed observers here said such

HEARINGS ENDED AMID DIRE FORECASTS OF INCREASED LEVIES.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—Cold figures served up by Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, re-emphasized to congress today that bonus payment legislation may bring administration demands for $558,000,000 to $1,622,112,000 in new taxes.

Their ears still ringing with Secretary Morgenthau's warning that extra-budget outlays must be accompanied by more revenue, members of the senate finance committee heard Hines testify the Harrison bond-redemption compromise would cost $558,000,000 more than the present law and that the Patman or Vinson bill on payment plans would cost an additional billion.

Hines' testimony completed the brief three days of hearing on the controversial bonus issue. Chairman Harrison called an executive session of the committee for tomorrow to vote and if possible report out a bill.

The only other witness was Representative Patman, democrat, Texas, author of the bill passed by the house providing for payment of the bonus in new money. He contended Mor-

SMITH THREATENS FILLBUSTER BAR TO LYNCHING BILL

Carolinian's Warning Disrupts Costigan's Fight for Measure To Penalize Officers.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—A floor fight was opened suddenly today by Senator Costigan, democrat, Colorado, for passage of his anti-lynching bill, but was met by threats of a determined filibuster as the senate has seen since—13 years ago—such legislation was last before it.

Led by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, southern senators served notice off the senate floor that the measure would never be passed or even brought to a vote. They laid plans to provide the senate with enough oratory to fulfill that warning.

The bill would place heavy penalties upon local officers who by negligence permit mobs to seize prisoners under their custody, and enable the dependants of a lynched victim to obtain damages from the county government.

Active in that fight was Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, chairman of the finance committee, to whom the opponents of the pending measure are looking for the first break in their battle.

"National Wrongs—Remedies."
His committee is working out the administration compromise bill for payment of the bonus. When it is ready for presentation they are confident that on a test the senate will decide to drop the Costigan-Wagner measure and take up the bonus issue.

Costigan appealed for consideration of his measure with an assertion that "national wrongs demand national remedies." This, he said, applied to the lynching problem.

As quickly as Vice President Garner announced the result of the vote on recommending the farm tenant bill, leaving the senate without immediate business, Costigan moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of his measure.

Just as quickly a half-dozen southerners were on their feet, ending his expressed hope for an immediate vote on the motion. Trammell, democrat, Florida, and Connally, democrat, Texas, announced they would wish to speak but Costigan took the offensive and began his speech.

Attendance quickly dwindled, except for the southerners. They stood guard on the floor or in adjacent cloak rooms.

Labor Angle.
Costigan was interrupted only once and then by Senator Black, democrat, Alabama, who said a crowd of several hundred miners recently went into a mining camp in his state and accused the state without immediate business, Costigan moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of his measure.

Costigan said he realized Black was concerned the bill be converted into "anti-race legislation" and added that he could see nothing in it that would give peace officers a "wonderful excuse" to molest strikers on the ground that they would be subject to penalties for not enforcing the law.

Set-Up of 46 Agencies To Handle U. S. Relief

Roosevelt To Name Allotment Board Today To Man Vast Machinery for Distributing $4,000,000,000 for New Jobs.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today charted 46 governmental channels through which $4,000,000,000 will move to men who have no jobs, but left until tomorrow the naming of the men to have charge of the sluice gates.

The designating of this vast machine, definitely breaking the ice on the job-giving program, in itself caused some stir in the capital. Its administration alone will require the employment of several thousand white collar workers in Washington.

But speculative interest centered on the all-important allotment board to be named tomorrow. With the president as its chairman, it alone will say how much will be spent for what.

Hopkins Mentioned.
The name of Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, was mentioned often in high quarters as one likely to have a strong say in the board's operations. It was indicated also that the board might be large enough to include representatives from most of the spending agencies.

Forty-three existing governmental agencies were chosen by the president today to help carry out the work program. Three others will be created

SENATE RETURNS 'GRUDGE' BLAMED TENANT AID BILL IN GUYOL KILLING

New Dealers Lose in Third Tilt; Action by May 12 Ordered.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(UP)—The New Deal proposal to loan $1,000,000,000 to dependent farm tenants was shut back to committee today after senate conservatives had assailed it for nearly two weeks as "outrageous," "ridiculous" and a threat to the nation's credit.

On motion of Senator William E. Borah, republican, Idaho, a friend of the plan to aid share-croppers but a critic of the pending bill, the senate voted 45 to 38 to send it back to the agriculture committee with instructions to report not later than May 12.

The vote was a smashing defeat for Majority Leader Joe T. Robinson and other administration stalwarts who successfully maneuvered the defeat of the measure.

Twenty-six democrats joined with 18 republicans and one farmer-laborite to pass the motion. Thirty-five democrats, two republicans and one progressive voted against it.

President Roosevelt's attitude toward the bill was not disclosed during the lengthy debate that preceded the vote. Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. told the senate finance committee yesterday, however, that the bill was not included in the chief executive's budget program.

The conservative democrats and republicans who kept battering away steadily at the bill hailed the vote gleefully. They predicted privately that the proposal was dead, pointing out that the senate would be so thoroughly engrossed in debate over the revised NRA, the soldier bonus, the proposed banking bill changes and other administration legislation that the farm tenant bill would be lost in the shuffle.

As drafted the bill would have authorized the creation of a federal corporation authorized to issue a billion dollars in bonds to advance loans to share-croppers, tenant farmers and to

HIGH COURT JUDGE AND WIFE KILLED BY TEXAS BANDITS

Wounded Son Tells of Ambush and Scuffle Fatal to Justice Pierson on Country Lane.

AUSTIN, Texas, April 24.—(AP)—Associate Justice William A. Pierson, of the Texas supreme court, and Mrs. Pierson, were shot to death tonight on a country road near Austin.

William Pierson Jr., 21, said two highwaymen killed his parents in a robbery.

Young Pierson, who notified officers, was shot in the arm.

The bodies were brought to a funeral home.

Young Pierson said he and his parents were driving on the scenic road en route to a picnic experiment station on the Colorado river.

About three miles beyond Bull Creek, Pierson said two men stepped in front of their car, pointed guns and forced them to stop.

"It was about 100 feet this side of a cattle guard," he said, "and there was a lane by there. They made us drive down the lane about 100 yards and then made us stop the car."

Pierson said one of the men had straight black hair, wore a white shirt and gray trousers, while the other had curly hair. He was unable to give a detailed description of the assailants.

"The black-haired man held the two guns on us while the other man took out money and my father's watch," Pierson said as he lay on a hospital bed.

"My father got real angry—he can see that—said 'I'll see that you're punished for this.'"

"Then one of the men said, 'Aw, so to hell!'"

"Father grabbed the two guns and told me to light into the other man. I jumped on him and started choking him. We fell to the ground. He pulled a pistol from his pocket and shot me through the arm."

"I heard the other man shouting. I knew I didn't have a chance so I ran away and hid in the brush for about five or 10 minutes."

After the shooting subsided and the robbers departed, Pierson said, he emerged from hiding and found his parents dead. He was unable to lift their bodies into a motor car, he said, because of his wounded arm, so he drove to Austin.

Justice Pierson was 61 years old and had been a member of the supreme court for 14 years.

TRIO FACING TRIAL IN MUSE BURGLARY VANISH INTO NIGHT

R. B. Haynie, J. C. McConnell Jr. and W. A. Reeves Run Into Railroad Yards After Sliding From Cell Window.

FIVE SAWS FOUND IN VACATED CELL

Wife of One of Men Believed To Have Smuggled Tools to Them; Chief Launches Probe.

Sawing the bars in their cell window, three men who have confessed to the $3,000 burglary of the George Museum Clothing Company store early last night escaped from Atlanta's new "escape-proof" city jail and made their get-away.

The three men, R. B. Haynie, J. C. McConnell Jr. and W. A. Reeves, using back saw blades which had been smuggled into their cell, sawed three of the bars and broke the fourth, escaping sometime between 6 o'clock and 8:45 o'clock last night.

A general alarm was broadcast and all police efforts were concentrated last night in searching for the escapees as detectives and uniformed men swarmed through the freight yards near the police station and radio cruising cars sped through the streets.

Rope Made of Bedclothing.
After sawing enough of the bars to permit them to slip through, the men fashioned a rope of their bedclothing and slid down about 10 feet to the roof of the patrol wagon entrance.

Police believe the men then walked across the top of a parked patrol wagon and through an open window of the Butler street plant of the Georgia Power Company, escaping into the maze of railroad tracks and box cars.

Chief T. O. Starnes, notified of the escape, rushed to the jail where he immediately launched a search and began a probe of the escape. He questioned Detective J. Hiram Davis and was told that Davis accompanied the wife of one of the men to the cell late yesterday afternoon. Numerous visitors have been permitted to see the men, police stated last night.

Flight Discovered at 8:45.
Turnkey J. H. Doyle discovered the escape at 8:45 o'clock when making a check-up of the cell. He immediately spread the alarm and the hunt for the men was under way within three minutes.

A thorough search of the cell revealed five hacksaw blades, one of which had been broken. Towels had been wrapped around one end of the blades to provide a handle. A number of razor blades also were found in the cell. Police were at a loss last night to explain how or by whom the contraband saws and razor blades were smuggled into the prisoners, who have been under close scrutiny.

Prisoners in adjoining cells told police that the three men had been singing all afternoon and that night last night took up the songs. The police band also was practicing in the police headquarters.

Rope Searched in Vain.
A false clue to the whereabouts of the escapees was raised by an officer who said the men had climbed up on the roof of the building. A book and ladder truck was sent from fire department headquarters and after the ladders had been hoisted to the roof of the police headquarters, police searched all corners but found no trace of the escapees.

The men made their escape from a

MIAMI, Fla., April 24.—(UP)—Nicholas Montone, Italian race track gambler, and Charles Call, of Miami Beach, tonight were found guilty of complicity in the $246,000 Miami Biltmore jewel robbery.

The jury fixed the penalty at 10 years to life imprisonment. Sentence will be passed in a few days.

The men were convicted of robbing Harry Content, New York social leader, of a watch and $100. Content was a guest in a suite occupied by Mrs. Margaret Hawesworth Bell, New York socialite and former dancer, whose jewels were taken in the robbery two months ago.

There are all sorts of special day-party hats that have become the accepted thing for wear during the summer months in temperature climates.

The disinclination of men in general to be the first to sponsor any change in wearing apparel is really responsible for the observance of a straw hat day. True, a few daring individuals "beat the gun" and do a straw top-piece just as soon as a few warm days are experienced, but the average male much prefers to be one of the mob instead of a leader where a change in apparel is concerned.

By setting aside on special day when every well dressed man will change from felt to straw, it is possible to overcome the natural diffidence on the part of the male of the species, as thing most of them look upon as genuine benefit.

Merchants of Atlanta are co-operating in the straw hat day movement and will make special showings of the latest word in straw "kellys." And it is expected that Atlanta will undergo the transition from winter to summer in a few brief hours today.

Felts will go into discard today, as "Straw Hat Day" arrives again.

his measure, because it would pay the certificates with a new issue of currency instead of creating an obligation.

Hines estimated the Patman bill would call for an appropriation, or a currency issue, of $2,201,934,000; the Vinson bill, $2,203,545,000 and the Harrison bill, $2,199,686,000 in currency or bonds.

Under the three bills, he said, the amount actually turned over to veterans would be: Patman bill, $1,954,000,000; Vinson bill, $2,016,600,000; Harrison bill, $2,050,000,000.

Hines added that the average veteran, who had borrowed up to the full amount allowed under his certificate, would receive $487 under the Patman bill, $500 under the Vinson bill and $180 under the Harrison measure.

Hines agreed the veterans would be better satisfied if he got cash instead of the bonds contemplated by the Harrison bill. He said cash payment would make administration of the law easier and would make the treasury's ultimate obligation no greater. But he explained that three per cent government bonds were selling at a premium, which the veterans might be able to get if he took bonds instead of cash.

He announced yesterday he had accepted an invitation to speak in Augusta May 16 at the bicentennial celebration and participate in a "Georgia Day" pageant.

The invitation was given him by Mayor Richard E. Allen Jr., who told him over the telephone that arrangements would be made for him to address a crowd prior to the pageant.

Talmadge did not say on what subject he would speak, but it was presumed that he would deal with the Roosevelt administration since May 16 comes in the midst of his southern tour against the cotton processing tax.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25-cent drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

3 Who Made Getaway From 'Escape-Proof' Jail

Using five hacksaw blades, smuggled into their cells, the three men shown above, held in connection with the $8,000 robbery of the George Muse Clothing Company store, early last night sawed the bars in the window of their cell and escaped from Atlanta's new "escape-proof" city jail. The escape was discovered by a turn-out at 4:55 o'clock last night and a manhunt launched within three minutes. Shown in the picture, left to right, are R. B. Haynie, J. C. McConnell Jr. and W. A. Reeves, alias W. A. Roy.

Only one occupant of the three automobile survived. Bodies of four of those killed were burned beyond recognition.

The dead: W. Dabney Anderson, 46, Vera, Apomattox county. A. L. Mattox, 38, Big Island, Bedford county. Miss Bonnie Mattox, 25, Big Island, Bedford county.

An unidentified woman, another occupant of the Mattox automobile, was seen first in this section. She was later recaptured in South Carolina, but efforts of Atlanta authorities to have him returned here were unsuccessful. A shake-up followed Jones' escape and resulted in the suspension of a station lieutenant, two policemen and the dismissal of a turnkey.

Chief O. J. Parker, of the DeKalb county police, had just taken to the city jail for safe-keeping Frank Miller, George Brunson and George Gray, when the alarm of the escape was sounded. The three men were confined in the new jail building, which was first in this section. South Carolina, but efforts of Atlanta authorities to have him returned here were unsuccessful. A shake-up followed Jones' escape and resulted in the suspension of a station lieutenant, two policemen and the dismissal of a turnkey.

Fugitives Reported Seen. Within a few minutes after the general alarm had been broadcast, citizens in all sections of the city deluged police with tips that the men had been seen first in this section. And then in that. Attached to the Fulton tower reported that three men in their shirt sleeves boarded an eastbound freight train near the jail at 8:10 o'clock last night.

As the investigating policemen last night questioned other prisoners, the hour of the escape was narrowed to "sometime between 6 and 7 o'clock." Fred H. O'Shield, a prisoner in the "bull pen," who adjoins the cell from which the trio escaped, told officers that he called to the men at 7 o'clock last night and asked for a match and did not get a response. There was no sign of life in the cell at that time, he said. Investigation disclosed that the men were in the cell at approximately 6 o'clock.

It was between 6 o'clock and 6:30 o'clock that Mrs. Haynie, accompanied by Detective Davis, visited the cell.

Haynie was arrested April 4 by city detectives who raided his home near Lithia Springs a few hours after Reeves had been arrested at Five Points, where he was waiting with his suitcase for McConnell to pick him up in an automobile for an escape from the city.

Haynie and Reeves confessed to their parts in the robbery of the Muse store March 10 and, according to police, implicated McConnell, who, they said, had more than half of the loot.

McConnell was arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., on April 13 by Jacksonville authorities. He did not fight extradition and was brought back to Atlanta, where, according to police, he confessed and accompanied detectives on a tour of pawn shops in which some of the Muse loot was recovered. Detectives found some of the fraternity jewelry in a pawn shop in the yard of the Haynie home. McConnell, when arrested in Jacksonville, had fraternity jewelry valued at more than $400 on his person. A thorough check of pawn shops in Chicago, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lexington, Ky., has resulted in the recovery of more than $2,000 worth of the jewelry. In all, approximately $4,000 of the $8,000 worth of jewelry taken in the burglary has been recovered as well as clothing valued at $1,000.

WALL STREET SEES ACTION IN LINE WITH EXPECTATIONS NEW YORK, April 24.—(UP)—The treasury action tonight in raising its price for newly-mined domestic silver to 77.57 cents per ounce by reducing the seigniorage to 40 per cent was exactly in line with expectations in the financial community.

The new treasury price is the highest silver has reached since 1920, when it touched $1.37. The all-time record was set on November 23, 1919, at $1.37 1/2 per ounce. In 1918, the price touched a high of $1.01 1/8 and in 1917 reached $1.08 1/2.

Before 1917, silver never passed $1. In fact, the present treasury price was only touched in the four years when the price exceeded $1.

Under the silver purchase act, the treasury is expected to buy silver until the value of silver is equal to one-third the value of gold held in the treasury, or until the silver price reaches $1.29 per ounce.

From now on, increases in the silver price are anticipated more rapidly. Speculators look for dollar silver before summer and many foresee a rise to the statutory level of $1.29 per ounce before end of the year.

While it is conceded the steady rise in the silver metal has mild inflationary aspects, experts pointed out that advances thus far have not had beneficial results, at least so far as commodity prices are concerned.

ATTERBURY QUILTS AS RAILROAD HEAD

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—(AP)—William Wallace Atterbury today retired as president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company after serving nearly ten years in that position, and Martin W. Clements, vice president, was elected as his successor.

In impaired health since last summer, Atterbury, who will be 70 next January and would have retired at that time, entered the company's regulations, placed Clements in nomination when the election of officers came up at the regular organization meeting of the board of directors.

Atterbury will remain as a director. The retiring president in a statement expressed his highest regard for Clements, referring to him as "undoubtedly the ablest railroad executive in the country."

Clements will be 54 years old next December. He entered the company's service in 1901 as a rodman after being graduated from Trinity College.

He filled many minor positions and steadily advanced until he became vice president in 1933, succeeding Eliaha Lee, who died in that year.

Burglar Is Captured; Pal, Shot, Escapes

Responding to a radio call that two men were attempting to burglarize the house of a prominent citizen, near Wycliff road, a squad of Fulton county policemen late last night surprised two negroes in the act of burglarizing the house, shot one of them and captured the other.

The injured man, leaving a trail of blood behind him, escaped into the woods. A search was instituted and early this morning the police were on the trail of the wounded man.

The negro who was captured and placed in Fulton tower, gave his name as A. J. Haygood, 24, and said he lived at a Walnut street address. He was charged with burglary.

ROOSEVELT HIKES PRICE OF SILVER TO 77.57 CENTS

000 ounces of the newly mined metal. The price of newly-mined domestic silver was fixed at 77.11 cents an ounce April 10. Previously it had been 64.64 cents.

London, New York and Montreal are the principal silver markets of the world and prices are quoted there daily. All prices follow closely the same relative levels and the average of these prices represents largely the world price of silver. The level of prices in these markets is largely fixed by actual demand and supply of the metal.

Treasury officials explained that the government could buy newly-mined domestic silver at the "world" price without making the producer liable to the 50 per cent tax on silver profits provided that his silver was immediately sold to the government after having been mined. Newly-mined silver is usually accompanied by an affidavit showing the date mined, where mined, and how mined. In this manner the government is able to distinguish the kind of silver it is buying.

WALL STREET SEES ACTION IN LINE WITH EXPECTATIONS NEW YORK, April 24.—(UP)—The treasury action tonight in raising its price for newly-mined domestic silver to 77.57 cents per ounce by reducing the seigniorage to 40 per cent was exactly in line with expectations in the financial community.

The new treasury price is the highest silver has reached since 1920, when it touched $1.37. The all-time record was set on November 23, 1919, at $1.37 1/2 per ounce. In 1918, the price touched a high of $1.01 1/8 and in 1917 reached $1.08 1/2.

Before 1917, silver never passed $1. In fact, the present treasury price was only touched in the four years when the price exceeded $1.

Under the silver purchase act, the treasury is expected to buy silver until the value of silver is equal to one-third the value of gold held in the treasury, or until the silver price reaches $1.29 per ounce.

From now on, increases in the silver price are anticipated more rapidly. Speculators look for dollar silver before summer and many foresee a rise to the statutory level of $1.29 per ounce before end of the year.

While it is conceded the steady rise in the silver metal has mild inflationary aspects, experts pointed out that advances thus far have not had beneficial results, at least so far as commodity prices are concerned.

RASKOB, IN ORIENT, WILL QUIT POLITICS HONOLULU, April 24.—(AP)—J. C. Raskob, ex-senator and former chairman of the democratic national committee, said today he was "through with politics." He arrived from Yokohama on his world tour.

When asked if his allegiance still held with the democratic party, Raskob replied: "I always have been an independent in my voting."

Three-Car Auto Crash Takes Lives of Five

APPOMATTOX, Va., April 24.—(AP)—A three-car automobile accident killed five people near here today.

Only one occupant of the three automobile survived. Bodies of four of those killed were burned beyond recognition.

The dead: W. Dabney Anderson, 46, Vera, Apomattox county. A. L. Mattox, 38, Big Island, Bedford county. Miss Bonnie Mattox, 25, Big Island, Bedford county.

An unidentified woman, another occupant of the Mattox automobile, was seen first in this section. She was later recaptured in South Carolina, but efforts of Atlanta authorities to have him returned here were unsuccessful. A shake-up followed Jones' escape and resulted in the suspension of a station lieutenant, two policemen and the dismissal of a turnkey.

Chief O. J. Parker, of the DeKalb county police, had just taken to the city jail for safe-keeping Frank Miller, George Brunson and George Gray, when the alarm of the escape was sounded. The three men were confined in the new jail building, which was first in this section. South Carolina, but efforts of Atlanta authorities to have him returned here were unsuccessful. A shake-up followed Jones' escape and resulted in the suspension of a station lieutenant, two policemen and the dismissal of a turnkey.

Fugitives Reported Seen. Within a few minutes after the general alarm had been broadcast, citizens in all sections of the city deluged police with tips that the men had been seen first in this section. And then in that. Attached to the Fulton tower reported that three men in their shirt sleeves boarded an eastbound freight train near the jail at 8:10 o'clock last night.

As the investigating policemen last night questioned other prisoners, the hour of the escape was narrowed to "sometime between 6 and 7 o'clock." Fred H. O'Shield, a prisoner in the "bull pen," who adjoins the cell from which the trio escaped, told officers that he called to the men at 7 o'clock last night and asked for a match and did not get a response. There was no sign of life in the cell at that time, he said. Investigation disclosed that the men were in the cell at approximately 6 o'clock.

It was between 6 o'clock and 6:30 o'clock that Mrs. Haynie, accompanied by Detective Davis, visited the cell.

Haynie was arrested April 4 by city detectives who raided his home near Lithia Springs a few hours after Reeves had been arrested at Five Points, where he was waiting with his suitcase for McConnell to pick him up in an automobile for an escape from the city.

Haynie and Reeves confessed to their parts in the robbery of the Muse store March 10 and, according to police, implicated McConnell, who, they said, had more than half of the loot.

McConnell was arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., on April 13 by Jacksonville authorities. He did not fight extradition and was brought back to Atlanta, where, according to police, he confessed and accompanied detectives on a tour of pawn shops in which some of the Muse loot was recovered. Detectives found some of the fraternity jewelry in a pawn shop in the yard of the Haynie home. McConnell, when arrested in Jacksonville, had fraternity jewelry valued at more than $400 on his person. A thorough check of pawn shops in Chicago, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lexington, Ky., has resulted in the recovery of more than $2,000 worth of the jewelry. In all, approximately $4,000 of the $8,000 worth of jewelry taken in the burglary has been recovered as well as clothing valued at $1,000.

Nor had continental labor organizations, the British delegation said, committed themselves to insisting on higher pay.

But the textile convention received universal support from labor. Japanese labor joined in the movement, and Japanese imports are among those most feared by the textile industry in the United States.

while a test of its constitutionality appeared definitely headed toward the supreme court.

While two New Englanders struck back at yesterday's speech by Representative Warren, democrat, North Carolina, denouncing foes of the tax, a joint congressional investigation of the effect of the tax was proposed in a resolution by Representative Fulmer, democrat, South Carolina.

Meanwhile, Secretary Roper, chairman of the president's special cabinet committee, announced that conferences with governors, senators, mill owners and other interested parties in New England and the south would start here on Monday.

At the same time, it was made known that L. W. Robert Jr., assistant secretary of the treasury and a former textile engineer, had been made a special adviser to the committee, and with Marvin H. McIntyre, White House secretary, will attend as unofficial observers the meeting in Augusta, this week of the American Association of Cotton Manufacturers. At this meeting, the position of the southern manufacturers is to be decided definitely.

Representatives Gifford and Rogers, Massachusetts republicans, who were criticized sharply by Representative Warren yesterday, charged on the floor today that the North Carolina address was inspired by the administration as part of a plan to divide northern and southern interests.

In Boston it was said final decision on the constitutionality of the processing tax would be made by the supreme court, regardless of the ruling of the United States circuit court of appeals, before which the appeal

Eddie Guyol, Alive an Open Book, Becomes an Enigma After Death

The bullet which tore through Eddie Guyol's head Tuesday night ended the amazing career of a man everybody thought they knew but a man they found they knew little about when they sought yesterday to investigate his mysterious death.

Alive, Guyol's life looked like an open book. In death, he proved to be an enigma. He belonged neither to the upper world nor to the underworld. Rather he lived on the fringe, part of the time on one side of life's street, part of the time on the other.

The lottery king whose life was rubbed out at his fashionable Pelham road home Tuesday night came here about eight or nine years ago as an ordinary salesman for a tire company, bringing with him an undying thirst for horse race gambling which he had learned to love in his native New Orleans.

Far from the horse tracks, Guyol soon found that it was not as easy to beat the races when he wasn't at the scene to look over the entries and judge for himself whether or not it was safe to put down his money. And he also soon found that the auto tire selling job didn't bring in enough to keep up the expensive habit of betting on horses he had not seen and knew little about.

Drawn from Prosaic Life.
Guyol's great love for horses—he wound up owning two fast steppers which won honors at the New Orleans and Miami tracks last winter—drew him from his life as a salesman to the life of a bootlegger, gambler and lottery racketeer.

It was in 1928 that Guyol, with an unnamed partner, opened a bootlegging business in a downtown hotel where with one telephone he and the partner supplied the hotel trade with corn and rye and such gin as was to be had in those days. Guyol continued to hold his job as a tire salesman, devoting his evenings and the early mornings to the carrying on of his bootlegging business. The horses still held his immediate attention and with funds derived from his bootlegging business he made telegraphic contacts with friends in New Orleans who supplied him the information he needed regarding the condition of the horses he bet on. The losses turned to winnings. The bootlegging business grew. Guyol became prosperous. He branched out considerably and by 1931 was considered the leading liquor retailer in town.

Then, as now, the bootleg field was overcrowded and it was considered impossible for one man or a group of men to weed out the small fry and take control of the field.

Along came Tom Wheeler, who had been to New York and obtained a working knowledge of how Ciro Terrasino, a World War I veteran, cleaned up in a new racket, the number game which is a throw back from the old policy wheel. You pick the middle three numbers of the total sales on the New York Bond Exchange, a 1,000-to-1 shot, and the operator paid you 500 to 1 for so doing. If you won you paid the agent's commission of 10 per cent.

Wheeler and Guyol started the number game in Atlanta and it swept the city. Guyol soon had more money coming in daily than he ever dreamed of getting in a month. He continued to follow the horses, planning more and more each day until the time came when he bet as high as $2,500 on a single race, incidentally on a horse quoted at 20-to-1, a horse which lost. Beta of $1,000 or thereabouts became an everyday gamble.

About the time Guyol became attracted to Walter Cutcliff, a big Georgia boy with a broad winning smile and a pair of large fists.

Wheeler got out was something the police always wanted to know. It was something they sought to learn yesterday after Guyol had been slain. But they learned that Wheeler had died some months ago in West Virginia, and then they lost all interest in the Wheeler career of Guyol's life.

Built Beautiful Home.
Within four years after his arrival from New Orleans Guyol became one of the most widely known men in Atlanta. He built the beautiful Pelham road home within a few months after embarking on the lottery career and continued to build one of the largest fortunes ever accumulated here by a racketeer.

Small of build, Guyol was always unassuming, if not always humble. The friends he made here as a tire salesman continued to be his friends and even his customers after he had changed his line of goods. The Guyol home on Pelham road was far removed from Eddie's liquor and lottery activities and his friends downtown seldom went there. But in his home he and Mrs. Guyol entertained some of the city's leading people and although he never "stepped in society" he had a large circle of friends in the "upper crust."

Few people knew anything of Guyol's intimate life. Unknown friends came here from other cities to visit him. Eddie asked no questions of his friends and they asked none of him. His reputation for paying off was perfect and the rest didn't matter.

ATLANTA DIVISION OF TRUCK GROWERS ELECTS OFFICERS

The Atlanta division of the Georgia Vegetable Growers' Association, which includes Fulton, Cobb, DeKalb and Clayton counties, met last night at the Fulton county court house to elect officers of the division and to hear talks by members and outsiders interested in the association.

Officers elected include D. A. Russell, of Avondale, president; C. C. Stauffer, of Atlanta, secretary, and A. G. Pittard, of Stone Mountain, treasurer. Vice presidents from each of the four counties were named, with the exception of Fulton. The Fulton vice president will be named later. These are J. J. Rose, of Forest Park (Clayton); C. M. Head, of Marietta, (Cobb); and E. P. Clark, of Lithonia (DeKalb).

E. V. Cash, chain store buyer, was the principal speaker and urged growers to grade and properly pack produce, declaring that by this practice growers could increase their sales and profits many times. He stated that Atlanta concerns are anxious to use local products if they could be secured in a uniform and dependable packing.

L. E. Farmer, special marketing agent, told the gathering of the importance of studying the market for popular varieties and preferred packing.

'GRUDGE' BLAMED IN GUYOL KILLING
Crouse is now understood to be operating a wholesale grocery business in Arkansas.

There will be no inquest over Guyol, Covner Paul Donohoe said, inasmuch as Mrs. Guyol was an eyewitness to the killing and she was satisfied she had told all she knew in connection with the actual murder.

Federal services will be held at Spring Hill at 9 o'clock this morning with the Rev. J. Russell Young officiating and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Beautiful Home of Guyol Scene of Mystery Slaying

Scene of the killing of Eddie Guyol, Atlanta "lottery" operator, who was shot to death while seated with his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Guyol, in his car in the driveway of his home on Tuesday night. It was just in front of the entrance to the garage, shown above, that the car was parked when the unknown killer arose from his hiding place behind the shrubbery and fired the bullet that passed through Guyol's head, killing him almost instantly. The beautiful home is located at 1753 North Pelham road in Morningside Heights. Chief A. Lamar Poole, head of the detective bureau of the city police department, is shown examining the bullet that killed Guyol. It is a .45-caliber from an automatic pistol. Staff photos by Kenneth Rogers.

killer evidently knew Guyol more or less intimately, in that he addressed his victim by his first name, "Eddie." They also pointed to the admitted fact that Guyol had feared some such attack for some time and believed that the motivation for the shooting was some grudge, so far unknown, which the killer had held against Guyol for some time.

Couple Seated in Car.
The shooting occurred about 9 o'clock Tuesday night, just as Mr. and Mrs. Guyol had entered their car to drive to a motion picture theater. Footprints found under some of the extensive shrubbery in the yard of their beautiful home indicated the killer had been hiding there for some time.

Ed A. Stephens, assistant solicitor-general, who lives across the street from the Guyols, said the prints in the soft earth indicated whoever had hidden there had changed his position several times, indicating he had waited for some time for Guyol to appear.

The Guyol home was lighted in practically all rooms Tuesday night because decorators were at work on the upper floor.

Guyol was in the habit of taking a taxicab home in the evening and, if it was after dark, he would invariably request the driver to turn his headlights into the driveway of the home and to keep them there until he was in the house, indicating he had feared an ambush there from some enemy.

Bullet Found in Auto.
The bullet which killed Guyol, passing entirely through his head, was found on the rear seat of the car while the empty shell was found on the seat where Mrs. Guyol had sat. It is a .45 caliber bullet from an automatic pistol. There are hardly any marks on it except those caused from the barrel of the gun and it is not misshapen.

Mrs. Guyol said her husband had been nervous the earlier part of the evening and had requested that they go out somewhere instead of staying at home. She said she consented to go to a picture show and they had just entered the car when the killer came to her side of the machine and stuck his gun through the open window.

Mrs. Guyol said she ducked her head and dropped her jewels on the floor. She heard the man, whom she described as short and stocky, say: "Well, Eddie, you know you've got this coming to you," and then the single shot from the gun. The killer immediately ran across the side yard of the Guyol home and disappeared.

Walter Cutcliff Summoned.
Mrs. Guyol telephoned Walter Cutcliff, Guyol's friend, who arrived with-

Robbery Motive in Guyol Killing, Associate in Business Believes

Walter Cutcliff, friend of Eddie Guyol, who was shot to death Tuesday night in front of his home on North Pelham road, on Wednesday said he believed the object of the killing was robbery.

"It was generally believed," said Cutcliff, "that both Eddie and myself were in the habit of carrying comparatively large sums of money on our persons. I guess they figured, in 10 minutes. They had also telephoned to Grady hospital for an ambulance, but before this arrived Cutcliff put Guyol in his own car and took him to St. Joseph's hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

It was reported Wednesday that Cutcliff had offered a $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of his friend.

Police said Guyol a quiet and unassuming man, really started the "numbers racket" in Atlanta some four years ago. He organized the first company for the taking of bets on "the bug," known as the "Home Company." This company had the reputation of always "paying off" and as a gambler, Guyol's reputation was good.

Chief Blames Prohibition.
Chief of Police Sturdivant said Wednesday that the Guyol killing and similar crimes really had their origin in prohibition and the almost universal bootlegging that "noble experiment" had brought about.

"The men who started their careers as lawbreakers by selling liquor during prohibition," Chief Sturdivant said, "later graduated in the lottery game and other rackets. The numerous killings that have resulted from internal feuds between these racketeers, from wars over territory and other causes, are directly attributable to prohibition and the new school of criminals it has brought forth."

Detectives Wednesday said there was a possibility the Guyol killing might be an aftermath to the killing of H. C. "Jockey" Elder, Atlanta bootlegger, who was killed in his Piedmont avenue apartment on January 30, 1934.

Harold Fulcher was acquitted of the charge of killing Elder on May 10, 1934. Testimony at the Fulcher trial brought out that Elder had sold out his business to another bootlegger making an agreement to stay out, but later he had threatened to enter the racket to capture the downtown hotel trade. Guyol and his associates were said to have controlled the downtown territory in the liquor game.

Guyol is survived by his wife, two sisters, Mrs. A. T. Webb, of Atlanta, and Mrs. W. G. Hartley, of Tulsa, Okla., and two brothers, A. P. Guyol, of Atlanta, and Sidney F. Guyol, of New Orleans.

Burialbearers at the funeral this morning will be Cecil Johns, J. H. Hogg and Herman Hopkins.

a smaller man than I am, would be the easiest to knock off, so they got him."

So far as known nothing was taken from Guyol by the killer and Mrs. Guyol, who was in the car with her husband at the time, did not lose any of her diamond rings, or other jewelry. She dropped these valuables on the floor of the car when the murderer appeared at her side of the machine.

Money on Floor.
Guyol also is reported to have taken a roll of money from his pocket and dropped it on the floor, where it was found, bloodstained, by Cutcliff who was the first person other than Mrs. Guyol to reach the scene.

"Eddie didn't have much money on him Tuesday night," said Cutcliff Tuesday. "I was with him when he got it, just a small roll mostly of one dollar bills. I found the same money, stained with blood, on the floor of the car after the killing."

Asked why, if robbery was the motive, the killer had said before he shot, "Eddie, you know you've got this coming to you," as in the case of the Guyol killing, Cutcliff said Mrs. Guyol was so distraught and hysterical at the time she probably didn't hear the remark at all.

"Eddie had no enemies, he was one of the sweetest disposition—meat alive," said Cutcliff. "Of course, he and I had business competitors, just as every man in any kind of business has, but Eddie was friendly with them all and certainly none of them would be guilty of his murder."

Cutcliff and Guyol are known as two of the biggest local operators of the "numbers racket," and Guyol is said to have been the first man to start a company in Atlanta to take bets on "the bug."

Cutcliff said Guyol had for a long time been nervous particularly about the driveway to his home, which stands back from the street.

Guyol Feared Ambush.
"Frequently," he said Wednesday, "when I would drive Eddie home in my car he would ask me to wait until he walked up the driveway and into his home. He evidently feared just some such ambush in the shrubbery as that which killed him."

Cutcliff said he reached Guyol within 10 minutes after the killing, responding immediately to Mrs. Guyol's telephone call and driving as fast as possible from Peachtree and Twelfth streets to the Guyol home.

"I believe Eddie was dead when I got there," he said. "He was slumped over behind the steering wheel with his hands folded in his lap. The bullet had made a clean hole through his cheek, emerging at the other side of his head. I saw no powder burns on his face."

State Rests Case In Trial of Schultz

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 24.—(AP)—Following the startling defense counsel hint that the Schultz beer business had paid $230,026.96 in "shake down" money to police, the government rested its income tax evasion case today against Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Fliegenheimer.

The termination of the government's case came with dramatic suddenness, accelerated by defense concessions that after an indictment charging income tax evasion was returned against Schultz in the southern district of New York in January, 1933, he vanished from his haunts and remained a fugitive until he surrendered voluntarily at Albany, November 28, 1934.

31 homes on MYRTLE ST. Need Painting

At one time — when the homes were all spick-and-span—MYRTLE was one of the most beautiful residential streets in Atlanta. And still is, with but 31 exceptions.

From North Avenue to Tenth Street, we recently counted 31 homes that are sadly in need of paint. Incidentally, eight others are verging on the same condition.

It is not for us to advise property owners when to paint, but we can't help thinking that — if these 31 homes were to suddenly blossom out in a new coat, the transition would, to say the least, be noteworthy.

Next week another street will come up for discussion.

U. S. Snips Red-Tape For Oceanic Flights

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—By a series of treaties eliminating diplomatic complications, the state department has opened the way for the development of transoceanic air service, both American and foreign.

A newly-signed agreement with Great Britain snipping off yards of red tape heretofore necessary for flights from one country to another was disclosed today as one of a large and still-growing number.

Such agreements are already in effect with Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, South Africa and most western hemisphere nations. A treaty with the Netherlands awaits approval there. One is to be negotiated soon with Australia.

PUBLISHER FLAYS U. S. PROPAGANDA

News Heads Are Urged To Resist Extension of Recovery Act.

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP)—John Stewart Bryan, publisher of the Richmond (Va.) News-Leader, called upon American newspaper publishers today for the exercise of greater editorial courage and logic to meet the "powerful and insidious mechanism" of government propaganda.

"The fact that you like a thing doesn't make it safe or healthy to use," he declared, in one of the principal addresses at the forty-ninth annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

"The fact that the government likes it and the fact that the government uses it doesn't in any way depreciate or change the ultimate effect of propaganda."

Bryan, in his discussions of government propaganda, made reference to the old English common law, and warned against the publication of news under "the torture of terror of losing circulation, the false flattery of hope of getting advertising, the fear that your opponent may get information that you don't get, that he may have news sources you can't tap."

He listed Washington departments and governmental subdivisions which have installed publicity agents, a total of 53.

The newspaper publishers of the nation were given repeated warning today against acceptance of the NRA extension bill pending in congress, and were advised that its enactment in present form would abrogate constitutional guarantees of a free press.

Speaking at the opening of the 49th annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, Colonel Robert R. McCormick, of the Chicago Tribune, said newspaper publishers had saved the freedom of the press "for the time," but only upon refusal to accept "deliberately misleading" suggestions for imposed limitations.

Recommendation against "further voluntary assent to any code" was made by the association's newspaper code committee in the event of enactment of the present proposal extending the NRA for another two years after expiration of the present act June 16.

National Brands Food Stores Plan For Opening of New Unit in Athens

More than 300 persons attended this banquet in Athens at which organization plans were completed for another National Brands Food Store.

ATHENS, Ga., April 24.—More than 300 people attended a banquet in the auditorium of the Christian church here last night, where organization plans were completed for the opening of another unit of National Brands Food Stores.

Short talks were made by Charles C. Muse, originator of the National Brands Food Stores plan; E. W. Rodgers, Walter Clark, W. A. Johnson, S. N. Forrester, R. A. Broyles, of R. A. Broyles Jr. Company; I. J. Paradies, president of Paradies & Rich, and Press Huddleston, advertising man, all of Atlanta.

Announcement was made that 76 stores have already been secured and that the membership will probably be 100 in this territory when formal announcement of their opening is made on May 17.

The membership in this territory will be served through the wholesale grocery concern of Talmadge Brothers, L. S. Davis, president, and Frank C. Thornton, secretary and treasurer of Talmadge Brothers, also addressed the meeting.

"National Brands Food Stores," stated Mr. Muse, originator of the plan, will carry only nationally known and advertised brands of merchandise. With the addition of this new territory our purchasing power is further increased and the savings will be passed on to the consumer."

SON OF EX-GEORGIAN KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—(AP) James E. Callaway, 22, of New York, a senior at Princeton University, died in a University of Pennsylvania hospital tonight of injuries received in an automobile collision.

Two other Princeton seniors injured in a head-on crash on the Baltimore pike near West Chester early today are in a hospital at nearby West Town in a critical condition.

Callaway was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill P. Callaway, of New York. His father is a vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company and a director of several companies, including the Alabama Great Southern railroad.

Norman Welch Jr., 22, of Charleston, S. C., was reported in a coma. He suffered a severe concussion of the brain, a possible fracture of the skull and a punctured lung.

Richard B. Whitney, of New York, received a fractured pelvis bone and internal injuries.

Two women occupants of the automobile with which that of the Princeton students collided also are in the hospital but are not seriously hurt. They are Mrs. Josephine Zeritz, 45, and Mrs. David Lansman, 34, both of Baltimore.

The students were returning to school from Welch's home where they had spent the Easter vacation.

Merrell P. Callaway, until 1919 was one of the outstanding attorneys in Macon and was president of the Continental Trust Company and vice president of the old First National bank of Macon. Though Mr. Callaway repeatedly declined the offers of the New York banking houses to attract him, stating that he would rather remain in Macon where he had his home, he agreed in 1919 to accept the offers of the Guaranty Trust Company.

When notified of his son's fatal accident, Mr. Callaway was vacationing at Sea Island Beach and left immediately for Philadelphia.

Slayer Hanged.

MILES CITY, Mont., April 24.—(AP)—Henry John Zorn, 28-year-old slayer, was hanged here early today in the first legal execution this town has seen in all the turbulent years of its history. He was convicted of killing Lester C. Jones, a member of the Montana Industrial school faculty, during an attempted robbery at the institution last August 12. He was arrested a few days later at Minneapolis, Minn.

of R. A. Broyles Jr. Company; I. J. Paradies, president of Paradies & Rich, and Press Huddleston, advertising man, all of Atlanta.

Political Control.
The code committee concluded its report by stating that "any thought given the NRA bill must include consideration of the Wagner (labor disputes) bill," the provisions of which were characterized as "obnoxious" in a separate report by the committee on federal laws.

"Both measures," the code committee reported, "would place all labor relations under the supervision and control of politically-appointed agencies of government. Both measures would subject employers to the decisions of these agencies, under penalty of fine or imprisonment or both for failure to comply. Neither measure places any obligations on employees or employers or organizations to comply with such decisions."

"Each of these measures seeks to evade the fourth amendment to the constitution of the United States which prohibits fishing expeditions into one's private affairs. Such expeditions have only recently been condemned by the United States supreme court in an opinion by the Justice Holmes in which there was no dissent."

Problems Raised.
The NRA bill in its present form, the code committee declared, raised the problems of (1) government regulatory control over the press, (2) presidential power to determine who shall and who shall not be included under codes, (3) the imposition of numerous requirements not contained in the newspaper code, and (4) extension of the code for another 90 days.

The association unanimously adopted a resolution introduced by James Stahlman, of the Asheville (Tenn.) Banner, requesting the various newspaper associations, in the country to co-operate with the A. N. P. A. in the formation of a committee to consider "mutual problems" should the NRA extension bill be adopted.

The association adopted three resolutions introduced by Colonel McCormick: Commending South Dakota papers for their defense of the right to comment on the public service of the court, praising Louisiana papers for their stand against a tax which "under the guise of a general tax sought to throttle and destroy newspapers that dared to criticize the acts of the party in control of the state legislation," and complimenting the code committee for its work in NRA matters.

"APPALLING!" Says BEAUTY EDITOR OF McCALL'S "ADMIRABLE!" Says YOUR OWN DENTIST

You can still be civilized and avoid "PINK TOOTH BRUSH"

THAT'S a very shocking and unpleasant picture," says Miss Hildegarde Fillmore, Beauty Editor of McCall's. "Any woman who behaved as badly as that would soon find most doors closed to her. And what else could she expect?"

But your dentist would be equally emphatic—in quite another way.

"I'm for that picture," would be his prompt verdict. "I hope Ipana publishes it everywhere. If people ate more raw, coarse foods—gave teeth and gums more exercise—we dentists would not be forever warning them about the dangers of tender, sensitive gums—about 'pink tooth brush.'"

Of course, all dentists know that our modern soft-food diet does not give the gums that brisk, health-making work they need. They get lazy, sluggish, tender . . . and some unlucky morning, the warning signal of "pink tooth brush" appears.

DON'T NEGLECT "PINK TOOTH BRUSH"
If you are wise you will begin today the double duty you must practice for complete oral health.

For your gums need massage as much as your teeth need brushing and cleaning. So follow the teachings of modern dental science. Rub a little Ipana into your gums when you brush your teeth.

Ipana with massage helps stimulate circulation. It rouses weak and lazy gums, and helps them recover their healthy firmness. And when your gums are normal, you need have little fear of the really serious gum troubles—gingivitis, pyorrhea and Vincent's disease.

Start with Ipana and massage. For whiter teeth. For healthier gums. For a more attractive smile. And for protection against the troubles that may follow "pink tooth brush."

LAWSON LITTLE'S INVASION.

W. Lawson Little, the slugging son of Stanford, holder of the British and United States amateur golf crowns, is now on the verge of another British invasion.

The long-hitting Californian will first defend his amateur title at the Royal Lytham St. Anne's course in Lancashire, starting May 20.

After this event is over, Little will remain in England for the British open at Muirfield, where he will be joined by Gene Sarazen and a few other leading American stars.

Little is keen about his coming trip, but naturally is making no predictions.

"I've been playing steadily," he said, "since the first of April and I think I am now hitting the ball better than I ever did before. But those 18-hole matches are terrors, especially when you happen to slip just a trifle against someone who is on the top of his game. Over the shorter route you can't afford to waste anything at all—and you've got to get away fast. It's usually a battle from the first tee shot to the closing putt."

"I don't think there is an amateur in the world in Little's class," Tommy Armour said. "At 36 holes he could start any other amateur rival two or three up and still not be worried. He has extra length off the tee—his iron play has improved a lot—his short game is exceptionally sound—and he has an iron determination to win. You can't shake him loose. I knew Lawson had arrived when he sailed into the young W. Lawson as he did at

The Double Champion.

The United States and British champion, now midway on his 7,000-mile journey, is 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighing 180 pounds.

He is deep-chested, with a pair of broad, strong shoulders—shoulders that come to his help in long-range hitting.

He is longer than most of the leading pros, and Tommy Armour's instruction has given him iron play a much firmer foundation.

"One of the main things in golf," Lawson says, "is to take nothing up. Any number of matches have been lost just that way. If I get 4 up I want to make it 5 up or 6 up, just as quickly as I can. And there is no reason to be discouraged when you are down. Too many things can happen in golf."

The largest elephant tusks on record brought almost $5,000 for the pair, when sold in Zanzibar.

CHARLIE FIRES A PRACTICE 35 OVER COURSE

North Carolina Star Has Best Round; Play Begins Today.

ATHENS, Ga., April 24.—(AP)—College golfers representing a dozen southeastern states tuned up their wits over the Athens Country Club course this afternoon in preparation for the opening tomorrow of the first annual open southern intercollegiate golf tournament sponsored by the University of Georgia.

Approximately 85 collegiate club members were entered for the inaugural competition, including outstanding performers from the southeastern and southern conferences, the S. I. A. A. and unattached schools.

HAS TWO OVER.

Rule-making committee members of the competition were Charlie Yates, national intercollegiate champion and captain of the Georgia Tech team, and Freddie Haas, the young Louisiana State student who won the southern amateur crown last year. In warm-up rounds today, Yates fired a 35, one under par, for nine holes, while Haas traveled the full route in 75, two over regulation figures.

The best practice round card was turned in by Erwin Laxton, entered from the University of North Carolina. Laxton, former North Carolina state champion, blazed around the rolling course in 72, one under perfect figures, to signalize a threat. He is man on the North Carolina team. Scores of other members of the team were Dick Harris, 75; Wilson Coffin, 75; and Walter Pijanowski, 70.

Clifford Perry of Duke and Paul Leslie of Louisiana State added 74's, while Wade Hoyt, the University of Georgia sharpshooter who equaled the course record last Monday, registered a 75.

OTHER SCORES.

Other practice scores included: Dan Sage, Georgia, 35 for nine holes; Jack Levell, Tennessee, 70; John Eaton, Tennessee, 79; Bayard Storm, Duke, 76; Walter Austin, Duke, 78; and Joe Powell, Duke, 78.

Colleges represented in the tournament are Georgia, Tennessee, Louisiana State, Georgia Tech and Tulane from the Southeastern conference; Duke and North Carolina from the Southern conference; Wake Forest, Furman and Louisiana Tech from the S. I. A. A. and Richmond and Augusta Junior College, unattached.

The qualifying round, which gets under way tomorrow morning, shall be over 36 holes, the results determining team championship, individual medalist and the various flights. Two rounds of match play at 18 holes each in all flights are scheduled for Friday, with semi-final matches at 18 holes slated for Saturday.

Tech's Golfers Compete at Athens.

Georgia Tech's golf team of Charlie Yates, Bertie Moore, Jr., Billy Ginn, Billy Eager, Charles Danna, Jr. and Billy Street will open play today on the Athens Country Club course in the qualifying rounds of the first annual Southern Collegiate open invitation tournament.

Almost every institution within the area of the Southern and Southeastern conferences will be represented in the tourney.

Freshmen as well as varsity players are eligible to play.

CRACKERS

catch of a hard smash by Eddie Rose and retired the side with a good throw to Kelley, who covered first.

Then in the third, with two out and none on, Jack Ward slammed a home run over the left-field fence. It was the sixth before the Birds scored again and in the meantime, the visitors had knotted the count in their half. One was out when Lipscomb singled to left. Moore glanced a hit off Boss' glove at first. Lipscomb being held at second. Taylor filed to center with no advance and Harris cracked a single to left, scoring Lipscomb. Harris, not noticing that Moore held second base, rushed from first to second on the throw to the plate and was caught between the bases.

But the second of the sixth settled the battle. With one out, Boss singled to center. Rose popped out to Taylor and Gleason walked. Connolly singled to center, scoring Boss and when Moore let the throw from the outfield get through him, Gleason tallied.

PELS PUT GAME AWAY.

In the eighth, the locals put the game on ice. Rousseau led off with a single and Rose bunted. Taylor throwing too late to second to catch Rousseau. Rose then sacrificed. Gleason was purposely passed to get at Connolly, notwithstanding Bud's timely blow in the sixth. Again Connolly came through, once more poking a single over second scoring two runs.

Thomas buckled down to shut-out pitching again after Atlanta's sixth, but he probably can thank Eddie Rose for keeping him out of trouble in the seventh, which "Prince" Oona opened with a single down the left-field foul line. Rose scooped up the ball and got it to second in time to catch Oona, who beamed about the decision and gave Umpire "Steamer" a rude push. The "Steamer" charitably let Oona stay in the game, however. Later in the inning Palmisano reached first on an error by Kopke but died on the bases.

In the last two innings Thomas benched the Crackers in order. His pitching performance was great, but he was not in the lineup tomorrow with a pitching staff that is in bad shape, notwithstanding the arrival of Del Wetherell, who will be ready to work tomorrow.

Tidwell and Sossong Establish New Mark in Doubles.

Four new marks were established in the city duckpin tournament, which is being conducted on a classified basis this spring, with three of the new marks being set up in the doubles and one in singles.

Carl Tidwell and A. J. Sossong set a new high mark for the city in the doubles event when they rolled a big three-game series of 707 to take the lead in the Class A doubles, supplanting the Blick-McKay duo who had previously bowled 707.

Knight and Manning, National Oil Company team bowlers of the Commercial Duckpin league, stalked the little duckpins to the merry tune of 587 as they breezed into first place in Class B for the doubles.

L. Whitman, of the Five Points Shoe Repair team in the Dixie Duckpin league, counted 380 for his three-game total, to eke out a four-pin victory over F. E. Reeves, who had bowled 346 the previous night in the Class D singles.

In the Class C doubles, John Owen and George French galloped way out in front of all of their competitors as they amassed a tremendous three-game score of 691. Johnny Owen featured the bowling with his initial game of 183.

Moon's Homer Wins For Petrels in 13th

EAST GRIFFIN, April 24.—Cecil Moon's home run with two on in the thirteenth inning today gave Oglethorpe a 6-to-3 victory over the East Griffin team.

Ed Copeland, pitching in old time form, limited the home town to seven hits in the 13 innings. The game was featured by the play of Canisler, Petrel shortstop, who handled 16 chances, and Bowen, center fielder. The latter saved the game with a great catch in the ninth.

Smith pitched the full game for East Griffin. Price, third baseman, and Scotty Pullen, shortstop, were good for East Griffin.

DECATUR FOLKS READY FOR BIG SERIES

By Jack Troy.

Lawrence Wade, the boy who worked out all winter in the gymnasium to prepare himself for the season, is Coach Frank Anderson's pitching choice for the opening game of the series for the state championship with Georgia's Bulldogs Friday afternoon on the high school field at Decatur.

Wade pitched Oglethorpe to victory over Tech in the first game of the battle for the city championship. Ed Copeland was the loser in the second, with the series remaining all even.

Coach Anderson reports that the splendid city of Decatur is all steeped up over the prospect of seeing its first college game in many years.

Modesty forbade Coach Anderson from mentioning that one of the real reasons Decatur is looking forward to the series is due to the fact that Alf Anderson, son of the Petrel coach, is playing a stellar game at short for the Bulldogs. Alf was one of Decatur High's finest athletes.

Then, too, Coach Anderson himself lives in Decatur. It will be practically the same as seeing the home team play when Oglethorpe meets Georgia in the two-game series.

The Petrel line-up is all set, with Wade as the pitcher and Hort Farmstead as the catcher. The infield includes Lefty Johnson, first base; Frank Stewart, second base; Ace Canisler, shortstop, and Captain Buster Fisher, third base.

Sully Sullivan will play left, with Ralph Bowen in center and either Cecil Moon or Willis Bell Robison in right.

Coach Catfish Smith likely will open the series with Lefty Nichols, his only veteran pitcher. Maurice Carter will be behind the plate.

The remainder of the team will include Harrison Anderson, first base; Ward Watkins, second base; Alf Anderson, shortstop; Jimmy Moore, third base; Jordan Ennis, left field; Cy Grant, center field, and Henry Wagon, right field.

A great series is in prospect.

NEW BATTLE SEEN OVER AAA CLAUSES

Licensing Amendment Advanced After Much Committee Delay.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—Signs of another possible battle royal over the AAA amendments appeared tonight as the House of Representatives

For a second time the controverted amendments emerged from the house agriculture committee after a new re-writing had exempted retailers of farm products from any chance of having licenses imposed on them. Coincidentally the senate received

Chairman Smith, of its agriculture committee, a formal report on the AAA which was approved two weeks ago.

These actions put the almost similar bills into position for senate and floor consideration, but leaders would not set a date for their discussion. There were predictions, however, that AAA amendments in some form would become law before the session ends.

Important in the AAA bill reported the house was an insertion of a provision for the old expert Debenne-McNary-Hartley amendment. This provision, supported by virtually all full house committee, would authorize the secretary to subsidize farm exports with processing tax or customs receipts.

Before reporting the AAA bill, the committee limited the use of the licenses to processors of meat, milk and non-basic farm commodities. The processors would be authorized if 75 per cent of the processors and distributors of the products were two-thirds of the farmers ask them.

Of this limitation, Smith told the senate:

AMERICAN ARMY TO ENLIST 31,700

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—The army swung today into a drive to virtually double its actual fighting strength. As the first move in the program—which congress has authorized by a bill appropriating $200,000,000 for the purpose—the war department announced that the enlistment of 31,700

The announcement came as the nation's legislators, told by a house leader that war clouds are "hanging over the horizon," gave attention to two bills that would spend $570,000,000 on other parts of the country's fighting machine—the navy and air bases.

on the larger of these two bills for the $480,000,000 appropriation for the navy for the next fiscal year. It is the largest regular supply bill for the navy in 15 years. Chairman Cary, Democrat, Kentucky, had said that prudence for defense was necessary in view of world conditions. He said "our clouds" were "hanging over Europe, with nations 'building the test war machineries' ever."

Air Bases to Be Set Up.
The house military committee, meanwhile, went on record today with advice to the house to set up a chain of strategic army air bases. The cost of bases and of strengthening old ones was estimated at $110,000,000. The committee stressed they would be purely defensive.

The report said at least one station should be maintained in the Atlantic northeast, Atlantic southeast

Caribbean area, Pacific north-Alaska, and the Rocky Mountain e rookies to be recruited for the beginning July 1 will be seven-privates. This is the first action crease the army from 118,750 to 00 men as authorized by con-

James Robert Mobley To Celebrate 85th Birthday Anniversary Date

By Sally Forth.

FELICITATIONS will be extended James Robert Mobley upon his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary on Saturday. In their father's honor, Sims and Ethel Mobley Bray will entertain at a family dinner party at their Juniper street residence to celebrate the auspicious date. The distinguished Atlanta has resided here for 50 years and has been a constant member of the First Methodist church during that period. He was born in Monroe on April 27, 1850, and married the late Miss Josephine Robinson. They enjoyed the rare privilege of celebrating their golden wedding anniversary together, an event fraught with a great deal of sentiment and pleasure.

Mr. Mobley is a remarkable figure in that he goes to his downtown office twice daily to attend to his personal business, enjoys excellent health, and keeps in touch with everything that happens. He retired from the wholesale mercantile business many years ago, but is keenly alive to the modern trend of business affairs.

Aside from Ethel Mobley Bray, his other daughters are Jennie Mobley Clapp and Josephine Mobley Demere, who live in Savannah, but will come to Atlanta to be with their father for the observance of his birthday. The following grandchildren will extend greetings to their beloved grandfather at the family dinner party on Saturday: Sims Bray Jr., Bobby Bray, and Josephine Clapp, Raymond Demere Jr., Bobby Houston Demere and Charles Clapp Demere, who live in Savannah.

SALLY is still hearing echoes of the gay times aboard the S. S. Statendam when the group of prominent Atlantans enjoyed the recent Mediterranean cruise. For instance, the modern Cinderella has a great ocean liner for a background nowadays. When the group were speeding across the Atlantic, one of the pleasurable pastimes was the "Cinderella" game. This is when all the feminine players discard one slipper into the heap in the middle of the floor. Then the men, upon selecting one, go in quest of it's mate on Cinderella's foot. When the Prince Charming finds the mate they become their dates for the evening at whatever entertainment has been planned. An so, like the story book, Cinderella fares better than her sisters who went to the ball.

Another incident which the Atlantans recall with amusement was the day Mrs. Anne Richmond's new hat blew off and floated away on the crest of the waves of the Atlantic ocean to ports unknown. And then that time in one of the Mediterranean ports when the school children were dismissed "to see the Americans."

ONE morning recently Sally Martin and Alice Tupper, two prominent Atlanta matrons,

SURVEY IS LAUNCHED TO REFORM TAXATION

Senator Lester Elected
Chairman of Talmadge
Economy-Taxes Board.

A survey to lower the cost of government and reform taxation in Georgia was launched yesterday by Governor Talmadge's commission on governmental economy and taxes.

After organizing, the board elected Senator William M. Lester, of Augusta, as chairman; Representative H. B. Edwards, of Lowndes county, as vice chairman, and Senator Roy McGinty Jr., of Chatsworth, as secretary.

Plans of procedure were discussed but were left to be worked out at a second conference in Atlanta May 17 and 18.

Nearly every member concurred that the first step should be to lower taxes, and that a consolidation of the functions of county and municipal governments would be a natural result.

Besides the officers, other members of the commission are: Senator J. Ellis Pope, of Lyons; Representative A. M. Zellner, of Monroe; R. J. Hampton, of Fannin; Mills B. Lane, Savannah banker; W. L. McElmurray, Burke county commissioner; State Auditor Tom Wisdom and S. E. Vandiver, Lavonia farmer.

Lester said one of his first objects would be to acquaint Georgians with provisions of the proposed constitutional amendment limiting the ad valorem (property) tax to 15 mills in the cities and 10 mills in the counties.

"It will be our purpose to revise completely all tax laws of the state," he commented. "This will be necessary if the amendment is adopted by the people in the 1936 election."

He predicted one result of the survey would be state operation and maintenance of all schools, highways and public health.

"We will devote much study during the next two years to elimination of useless and expensive functions of local government," Lester stated.

Screw Worm Fund Is Slashed $10,000

Only $40,000 of the two-year $50,000 appropriation for screw worm control in Georgia will be available if the fund is to be used for the purpose announced yesterday by Tom Linder, commissioner of agriculture.

The appropriation came under the "red pencil" freely used by Governor Talmadge who notified all departments they would have to take cuts to stay within the revenues.

"The governor notified this office that the screw worm appropriation would be cut 20 per cent if we called for the entire amount this year," Linder said. "Whatever amount is needed in 1936 will be reduced the same percentage."

This appropriation was voted by the last legislature for 1935 and 1936.

"Of course, it will not curtail control to such a great extent, as the work will be handicapped," Linder said. "We do not know how much will be needed yet to fight the pest."

An effort is being made to obtain $80,000 of a $480,000 allotment made by congress to the southeastern states to combat the worm, which attacks livestock, and in some sections seriously retards the cattle business.

'CLEAN-UP' TALKS WILL BE BROADCAST

A clean city makes a lasting impression on visitors and is stimulating to local residents," Mrs. Richardson said.

Mrs. Wilbur Colvin, executive secretary of the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the campaign, will talk over WFTL at 11:15 o'clock tomorrow morning, asking co-operation of automobile owners.

Miss Elma Burnette will speak over WGST at 1 o'clock tomorrow, and Mrs. Flora S. Osburn will make an address over WSB at 3:35 o'clock.

Rebel Yell To Echo Here Friday As City Honors Heroes of South

With the Stars and Bars waving proudly in the breeze by the side of the Stars and Stripes at the head of long columns of marching men, and the rebel yell echoing down the canyons of historic old Peachtree street, all Atlanta will pay tribute tomorrow to the fallen heroes of the south.

Over ground hallowed by the blood of the gray clad defenders of Dixie will march hundreds of military and civic units to the martial airs of 15 bands and three bugle corps, and the strains of Dixie will mingle with those of the Star-Spangled Banner.

The parade will form at 1:30 o'clock at Peachtree street and Baker street and the first detachment will get under way at 2 o'clock. The line of march will be south on Peachtree street and Whitehall street to Hunter street and thence east on Hunter to Oakland cemetery, where the Memorial Day services will be conducted. The reviewing stand will be on the east side of the Capital City Mall.

Milledge, will raise the Confederate flag to the strains of Dixie as played by the fire department band. Judge M. J. Yeomans, attorney-general of Georgia, will be the principal speaker, and Colonel Norris will deliver the benediction. Taps will be played for the sleeping heroes by a squad of buglers from the 22nd infantry at Fort McPherson.

A delightful part of the parade will be a pageant of the old south, which will be led by Miss Annie Laurie Kurtz as a young lady of the sixties, riding in an old-fashioned victoria driven by a negro coachman. Miss Kurtz was chosen for the signal honor because she is the granddaughter of the late Captain John H. Milledge, hero of the famous Andrews raid. It was he who captured the engine "General" from the Federal spy, James J. Andrews, and his men as they attempted to make away with it with a view to destroying the state road and severing communications between Chattanooga and Atlanta.

Miss Kurtz will be escorted by General J. L. Driver, past commander of the Georgia division of the United Confederate Veterans.

Following General Driver and Miss Kurtz will be two old slavery negroes who will ride in an old-fashioned buggy drawn by a mule. The white-haired old man, "Ten-cent Bill Yopp," is a famous slave character who acquired the name by his charge of 10 cents for any service performed, large or small, for the "white folks" of the division to which he was attached.

With him will be 83-year-old "Aunt Lou," for 30 years in the service of Mrs. John Slaton.

Patrolman Greer was retired from the force several months ago and has been a patient at Veterans' Hospital Holcombe to accompany him to the home where the retired policeman lived alone. The house was locked and the men forced their way into the home through a rear window and found Greer lying on the floor. He was unconscious. A two-day accumulation of mail and milk was on the front porch.

JAPAN SEEN AS BEST U. S. COTTON CUSTOMER

Armand May Warns Against Endangering Export Trade
With Nippon.

By the Associated Press.
Armand May, vice president of the American Manufacturers Export Association, said in a statement here yesterday "it would be mighty poor business to risk sales of raw cotton to Japan" simply because the Japanese are securing a certain amount of business in manufactured goods in the United States.

Branding as "unfortunate" the publicity given the ability of Japan to pay duty and processing taxes on their textile exports and still undersell American manufacturers, May declared that Japan is "now taking more of our raw cotton than England, France and Germany put together."

May, an adviser to the Export-Import Bank of Washington and regional director of the American Foreign Trade Council, declared a formula should be developed to take care of the foreign market.

"In the light of reality," he said, "we see now that we have created a situation that we must face and meet by placing a subsidy on our exports of raw cotton to Japan."

He said he believed this system could be worked out satisfactorily.

May said textile imports in the United States from Japan in January and February amounted to $398,000. If this rate continued for the rest of the year, he said, the total would be $2,500,000. The United States, he declared, sells approximately 35 times this much raw cotton to Japan in a year.

He added that the chances are that much of the imported goods from Japan is made from American cotton.

Formosa 'Quake Toll Officially Set at 3,185

TOKYO, April 24.—(AP)—The death toll in the Formosa earthquake was set today in the final official police report at 3,185. The report said the seriously injured numbered 9,215, the slightly injured 14,119; the number of houses destroyed 15,292, and the number damaged 22,000.

The sinking sensation which any hard-working dealer feels when he finds a terrific division of the trump suit may be fatal if he gives up hope. With courage and a bit of ingenuity, however, he may bring about a situation in which his opponent's winning trump and another winning card held in a side suit may fall on the same trick, thus forcing a waste of two winners for only a single gain. Lesson: Never give up hope. See the following example of recovery after a discouraging shock:

Featuring a meeting of the public relations committee of the Atlanta Red Cross roll call, given by Eugene Ivey, a committee member, at the Davison-Paxon tea room yesterday afternoon was the speech made by 16-year-old David Macarov, boy chairman of the National Junior Red Cross convention recently held in Washington, D. C.

A student at Commercial High school, Macarov is an accomplished speaker, and his report of the national convention activities was well received.

The presiding officer was Julian Boehm, well-known civic leader, who is the roll call chairman. Short talks were also made by Willis Milner, Robert Martin, Mildred Seydell and the host, Eugene Ivey.

Those present were Charles Smithgall, of WGST; Stewart Gelders, Anthony Rumanes, John Van Cronk, Mortimer Freeman, General James H. Rees, Mrs. Kathleen Dana Barlow, G. K. Selden, Margaret Fetter, J. C. Clarke, Walter Paschall and Mrs. Seydell, Mr. Boehm, Ivey, Milner, Martin and Macarov.

Mae West Reveals Hidden Chapter To Buttress Denial of Marriage

HOLLYWOOD, April 24.—(AP)—Mae West revealed today a hidden chapter of her life story to buttress her repeated statements that she never was married.

The buxom screen star gave a variety of reasons why she avowedly never wed. Chief among them was an obligation to her mother.

"When I get married," Mae concluded, "I'll concentrate on it. I won't be in pictures. And I'll be the first to announce it."

Aroused by the inferences drawn from her statements, Mae West said: "I had obligations to my mother. I never discussed them. Well, she's gone now."

The hard-boiled veneer she shows in her pictures, and tries to carry over into her off-stage life, was badly cracked by the pressure of the past four days.

Saturday night the office of the registrar of deeds in Milwaukee disclosed a marriage certificate, dated 1911, bearing the names Mae West and Frank Wallace, but she said: "I never heard of the guy."

It gave her parents' name as John West and Matilda Diker. "I can't explain this, except to say I have never married," Mae declared.

Mrs. Matilda Diker West died four years ago; Mae's father, the former boxer "Battling Jack" West, died several months ago.

"She put me on the stage," Miss West said. "And she did it over his most strenuous objections. It started when I was a child."

"Eventually, it came to a point of an open issue between them. It went right along on the Q. T., though. Where she got the money for my lessons (dancing and singing) and all the rest of it, I don't know exactly."

"She didn't live long enough to see any great success for me. I did small-time vaudeville and a lot of cheap jack stuff for years."

"Then I had a few plays on Broadway, and I came to Hollywood. But she was gone before any of that happened."

"Now if I'd have gotten married what would have happened to all I was trying to do?" she asked.

Besides, she said: "I never found anyone I liked well enough. I might have, I suppose, if things had been a little different in my setup. But I didn't."

SHOWERS ON PROGRAM, Says Meteorologist

Atlanta is entering upon another period of wet, or at least damp, weather, with probable showers on the program for today, according to George W. Mindling, forecaster here.

"Probable showers are indicated for today, but the weather will be comparatively warm, with the range between 60 and 80 degrees," the meteorologist said. "Likewise, it appears that the city is due for another period of wet weather."

The city enjoys perfect weather conditions yesterday, the mercury climbing to 77 degrees in the afternoon from a low of 58 degrees in the early morning.

SOCIAL JUSTICE BODY LAUNCHED BY COUGHLIN

DETROIT, April 24.—(UP)—The first state meeting of the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice met here tonight.

Over 15,000 jammed the seats of the vast Olympia sports arena to hear 11 speakers discuss the principles of the NUSJ.

Declaring that archeological discoveries during the last 10 years have put out of date all previous Bible commentaries, Sir Charles Marston, director of the Wellcome expeditions to the Holy Land, delivered an address yesterday morning in the theology chapel of Emory University.

Sir Charles described the uncovering of inscription on broken bits of pottery which mentioned the name of the prophet Jeremiah and told of events described in the twenty-sixth chapter of the Book of Jeremiah. The discoveries also brought to light writings about the Old Testament which are 1,500 years older than any previous Hebrew writings.

Sir Charles is married to a member of the Battery family, of Rome, Ga., and yesterday was shown a statue of his father-in-law, Dr. George M. Battery, in the medical school of the university.

Try CARDUI For Functional Monthly Pains

Women from the 'teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. C. H. Haynes, of Essex, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very helpful. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. I was very nervous, had head and back pains and a generally run-down condition. Cardui has helped me greatly."

Thousands of women testify Cardui builds them up. If it does not benefit you, consult a physician.—(adv.)

SIXTH HISTORICAL ROLE PORTRAYED BY ARLISS

"Cardinal Richelieu" Will Open Friday at Loew's
Grand Theater.

Among his many distinctions, George Arliss can number that of being the first to bring the screen public to more historical characters than any other actor.

His latest characterization in the title role of Darryl Zanuck's lavish 20th century production of "Cardinal Richelieu," which comes to Loew's Grand theater Friday, brings this distinguished artist's total of vivid portrayals of famous men to six.

No other star symbolizes this type of screen portraiture to the public mind. The difficulties involved are the main assurance against a repetition. The interpretation of historic characters requires more preparation and study than others, and the star who essays them must have the courage to expose himself as a target for criticism.

Won Greatest Fame.
And yet it is precisely in this type of film that George Arliss has won his greatest fame. Such pictures as

Rose Lovers Will Assemble Here On April 29 To Discuss Problems

Rose lovers from every part of the nation will assemble in Atlanta on April 29 and in Macon on April 30. Much time will be spent in discussions of rose problems and visiting rose gardens. Mrs. J. E. Mrs. L. C. Fisher is developing his estate at Chamblee with special emphasis on roses. His garden is famous, and he has added to the climbers and bush varieties, having over 6,000 plants, trying to outdo the other. This will be one of the highlights of the meeting of the American Rose Society.

Many of the old-fashion roses will be seen in the garden of Mrs. Arthur Telford at 1235 Clifton road. Mrs. Telford specializes in the old roses, and her garden has wonderful old climbers as well as bush roses not often seen in modern gardens.

Co-operation of Agencies Stressed By Miss Dorothy Crounse

The Child Welfare Association of Fulton and DeKalb counties met on Thursday at the home of the association on Juniper street. Miss Dorothy Crounse, executive secretary, made an excellent analysis of the service report of the month; illustrating the need for investigation and case work, both of the wards and of the homes in which the children are placed. Of 34 homes investigated, only a small per cent answered the necessary qualifications for the care of children.

Sixteen neglected children were accepted for care during the month, while 34 were disposed of either at the source of the request where other means could be found for their upkeep and care, or through other agencies equipped for the type case that was brought. Mrs. Marie Coffey, of the Sheltering Arms day nursery has been most understanding and co-operative with the agency as well as other allied children's bureaus.

Miss Crounse paid special tribute to Norman Lamont, the staff worker with adolescent boys, whose understanding and influence is marked. Mrs. C. E. Harrison staggers the board monthly by the number of garments she has needed to equip the children and the various fine means she has of having necessary contributions made to the wardrobe. The Kappa Delta sorority have given money to buy graduation dresses for the girls of their own age and the Dorcas Society has made a substantial contribution toward the wardrobe fund.

The Mother's Club composed of the boarding mothers, met during the preceding month, according to Mrs. Comer Woodward, chairman of that committee. Mrs. Henry McGee, president and Dean Raimundo de Orives, a member of the board, was the speaker. Dean de Orives paid a tribute to the noble women who care for the children by telling of the question he was asked by a friend when he first came on the board and his answer thereto. "What's the idea, dean?" questioned.

Tensile Strength of Cotton, Silk Surpasses Metal in New Process

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.
NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP)—Silk and cotton fibers surpassing metal in tensile strength and offering a key to better wearing qualities were reported to the American Chemical Society today.

This strength was found during examination of "giant molecules" in a Swedish centrifuge at the du Pont Company laboratories. The centrifuge is an indirect microscope which spins its contents at hundreds of revolutions a second so that their minute parts are separated and their size can be calculated.

The experiments were reported by Dr. Elmer O. Kraemer and William D. Lansing.

In the centrifuge the molecules of silk and cotton show a beanoole structure. They are very long and narrow.

This explains their tensile strength. When they are lined up so that they lie parallel the atomic electrical forces of attraction hold them together much as if they were cables.

When their fibers are lined up in this way, silk shows a tensile strength of 32 to 35 tons a square inch and cotton, 20 to 31 tons. The tensile strength of cast iron is 6-12 to 17 tons.

Countless billions of these long molecules are contained in single fibers. Not all of them are parallel, and the fiber strength seems to depend partly on how many line up. This knowledge has been used in the textile industry to strengthen artificial fibers.

Simple nilling lines them up. This pull is said to explain the natural strength of silk. The worm exerts some pull when he extrudes his thread of silk.

Communist Party To Fight Long's Rule

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—(AP)—The communist party of the New Orleans area today declared war on Senator Huey P. Long's "dictatorship."

W. G. Binkley, district organizer of the party, yesterday sent out a letter asking all the workers' organizations to unite against the "fascist-like and anti-working class dictatorship" of the senator.

ed the friend, "do you put children out at so much per month?"

"While the woman may need the money in order for her to support the child, it isn't the money that governs her acceptance nor our placement. She is the type woman who loves the child. She is a woman capable of great sacrifice, of a great deal of love, and moral. There is no knowledge when the spirit awakens in a child, so that it behooves us, as parents, to teach with the proper regard for integrity and character-formation. There was a four-year-old child in the church-yard," he said, watching the convicts working on the road. After thoughtful consideration, she walked up to a jolly-looking negro man and remarked, "You know, you look too nice a man to be in jail. So you see, that child, unknown to the parents, was fully aware to misconduct and its punishment."

Other Mother Club.
Mrs. Woodward reported on the recent meeting of the Other Mother Club, of which Mrs. A. L. Norris is president. The fine progress of one of the wards of the association for which the Other Mother Club cares through its free will offering was noted with pleasure and interest. The boy is graduating with good averages from a vocational school and will be ready to assume responsibility for himself in a few months, thanks to the benefits of these fine women.

In the absence of Mrs. S. D. Truitt, chairman of the health committee, Mrs. D. R. Paige reported that 42 children were examined in clinic during the month and that one of our babies had won the health contest conducted during the month. Dr. Robert W. Burns, president of the Child Welfare Association being absent, Mrs. Frank Neely, vice president, was in the chair.

The members of the ladies' auxiliary have beautified the interior of the Columbian Club and have made many improvements during the Lenten season.

The members of the Knights of Columbus, their wives and friends, are especially invited to attend, as by their patronage they will help defray the expenses for the recent repairs to the club. Mrs. A. P. Aicklen, president of the auxiliary, assisted by the officers, is in charge of the party.

Service League.

Members of the Young People's Service League of the Church of Incarnation were entertained Monday evening at a wienner roast and Easter egg hunt at Double Canyon.

Chicago Grain Market

The Chicago grain market will be open at the usual time tomorrow, board officials announced, and it was expected the other affected markets would follow suit.

Reorganization Awaited

Federal Judge William H. Holly, who received a petition for reorganization under the amended federal bankruptcy law from the Rosenbaum concern Tuesday, met counsel for the board and the corporation in his chambers. The judge declined to modify his injunction restraining the board from suspending the trading privileges of the mammoth corporation, but it was understood the corporation agreed to undertake no further trading under its own name until the reorganization had been effected.

The board announced that the Rosenbaum accounts with the Board of Trade clearing house would be closed out and liquidated.

S. C. SENATE VOTES FOR COTTON TAXES

Whole AAA Approved After Stormy Session of Protesters.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 24.—(AP)—Criticism of New Deal tactics blazed up in both branches of South Carolina's 100 per cent democratic legislature today but senate disapproval was smothered by a large vote.

House members said their disapproval was "internal."

Torn between traditional sentiment for individual "state rights" and support of the national democratic administration, the legislators heard claims that bills drafted by federal lawyers for state enactment would "exercise the highest authority of state over property" and that the state senate "is blind" following Washington.

Senator Carol D. Nance, of Laurens, one of the largest cotton planters in the senate, asserted the cotton processing tax, which the chamber later endorsed, was "driving this country to ruin."

The relief program was attacked by Senator B. K. Cooke, of Horry, who charged that federal relief funds had been used "for political purposes in South Carolina and there's been graft in it."

House opposition came from the viewpoint, expressed by Representative Neville Bennett, of Marlboro, that "we are asked to pass without discussion and without even reading bills written in Washington which would authorize the borrowing of millions of dollars."

"Some of these bills would go as far as to permit the condemnation of a man's house to build another one, exercising the highest authority of state over property."

N. C. HOUSE APPROVES REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR

RALEIGH, N. C., April 24.—(AP)—Overriding spirited opposition, the house of representatives passed on Tuesday a bill to amend the constitution providing for a state-wide referendum June 8 on the question of legalizing state-controlled liquor stores.

The vote was 49 to 41.

The third and final reading is scheduled for tomorrow noon, even if it passes, the measure will be sent to the senate.

Providing for the sale of whiskey in state stores at prices to be fixed by an alcoholic beverage control board, the bill would become effective if as many as 12 counties approve it at the referendum. All counties voting for the legalization of liquor would also be entitled to state-operated stores.

Conferees working on the biennial revenue bill were "getting along very nicely today, and hope was held for a report by tomorrow."

ALABAMA RECESS GROUP VOTES AUTO TAG OUT

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 24.—(AP)—The recess legislative committee on education, highways and agriculture today unanimously adopted the recess report of the highways subcommittee favoring a 40 per cent cut in auto license tags and opposing the plan under which some counties and cities now escape the state gasoline tax by operating their own storage tanks.

The recess report will be presented to the legislature when it reconvenes Tuesday.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS SEEN FOR FLORIDIANS

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 24.—(AP)—The senate today approved a proposal to clear the way for old-age pensions in Florida.

A constitutional amendment resolution, unanimously adopted by the senate, came as the result of dispute over the validity of old-age pensions and other relief measures if approved by the house and ratified by the people in the general election of next year.

Senators tomorrow morning are to act on the bill to outlaw chain stores. Meanwhile, tax exemption for every citizen of Florida who owns, or is purchasing, the house in which he lives was voted 85 to 3 by the house of representatives.

The house action, in broadening provisions of the homestead tax exemption amendment to the constitution, makes it applicable to every "head of a family who is a citizen of and resides in the state of Florida." Single persons, widows and widowers, though they are without dependents, were defined by the house bill as heads of families, are entitled to the exemption if they own and occupy their homes. The exemption applies on homesteads up to an assessed valuation of $5,000.

Mrs. Thomas H. Reeder, prominent Atlanta businesswoman and wife of the late Thomas H. Reeder, died Wednesday at a local hospital following an illness of three weeks. She was 43 years old and had been a resident of Atlanta for the last 35 years.

Following the death of her husband six years ago, Mrs. Reeder, who was the former Miss Mary Stallworth, conducted the business of the Reeder Hardware Company. She was well known to Atlanta's equestrian and was an importer of English riding saddles.

She is survived by two sons, Thomas H. Reeder Jr. and Marion Reeder; her mother, Mrs. William B. Kilgore; two brothers, Robert B. Stallworth of New York, and John Stallworth of Short Hills, N. J.; and three sisters, Mrs. G. Carl Combs, Mrs. Charles J. Warner and Mrs. Ruth S. Keelin.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Calvary Methodist Episcopal church, with the Rev. W. M. Barnett and Rev. Herman Turner officiating. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery, with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

William M. Rapp Observes 50th Year as City Employee

There are 50 years between the taking of these two photographs of William M. Rapp. The boy on the right had just started working for the city in the water works department, while, half a century later, we see Mr. Rapp as he is today, the city's oldest employee in point of service.

Atlanta's oldest employee in point of service, William Marshall Rapp, today will observe his fiftieth consecutive year as a city employee by working as usual.

Rapp, who, incidentally, will be 65 years old Saturday, is a superintendent of construction and distribution of the Atlanta waterworks, a position he has held for many years, and in which he has guarded zealously the reputation of Atlanta's water, its purity and its availability.

Today he will receive the congratulations of his fellow employees as the dean of the water department and the mentor of the municipality's 4,000 workers.

W. Zode Smith, general manager of waterworks, who himself is no younger than Rapp, said yesterday: "I have paid Rapp a high tribute for loyal, efficient and effective service in the interests of his city."

Rapp is a thirty-second degree Mason, and a Shriner. His only hobby is fishing. He is a life member of the American Waterworks Association.

When he became connected with the waterworks department on April 25, 1886, there were only 67 stop valves, 50 fire hydrants and 21 miles of water main. The system was in its infancy, and was valued at only a few thousand dollars. Now there are 8,342 stop valves, 5,708 fire hydrants and 825 miles of water main. The present system is valued at $15,000,000.

He began his career when he was eight years old as a carrier for The Constitution and went into the service of the waterworks department when he was 15. He has been there ever since.

A son, W. Marshall Rapp Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. A. M. Ingram, are his children. He was born in Atlanta and has been a resident here all his life.

He credits his success and the efficiency of his department to his loyal co-workers.

Atlanta real estate values have held up better than many of the middle-western cities and mortgage loans here are in fine shape, Donald C. Campbell, treasurer of the State Mutual Life Insurance Company of Worcester, Mass., asserted here yesterday.

"Signs of increased prosperity are evident here," Mr. Campbell said. "A year ago we had heavy vacancies in the business district but many areas then in distressed condition are now completely occupied."

"That this was not merely just another 'prosperity talk' was indicated when Mr. Campbell declared that his company is now looking for additional mortgage loans in the Atlanta district."

Mr. Campbell is here inspecting the accounts of the Georgia branch of which Henry M. Powell is the general agent. The company has several millions of dollars invested in this area.

Georgia business showed a 71 per cent increase for 1934 as compared to 1933," Mr. Powell said. "But business for the first four months of this year has increased 35 per cent over the corresponding period of last year."

A splendid indication that Atlanta is rapidly approaching normal business conditions is the fact that loans made on policies during the depression are now being paid back daily, Mr. Powell declared. The increase in delinquencies has been stopped, he said.

Mortgage loans on Atlanta commercial property and the soundness of investments in the country, according to Mr. Campbell.

The Mutual Life, which is this year celebrating its 80th anniversary, has been operating in Georgia for 30 years. Mr. Powell has been general agent for Georgia for the past eight years, and the Georgia branch is one of the best, according to Mr. Campbell.

Campbell, who is 40, is one of the youngest treasurers of a major life insurance company, it was said. He is a veteran of World War I and a Princeton graduate.

The poetry and prose prizes of plants offered by Mrs. Oscar McKenzie, Montezuma, were awarded as follows: First poetry prize to Mrs. W. D. Couch, College Park, for her poem, "Solemn Hour," second, Mrs. Mary Belle Adams Davis, Macon. Mrs. Niel Hass, LaGrange, won first prize for prose on her article, "Garden Mine."

Mrs. W. W. Douglas, second for unusual garden.

The horticultural award was given by the Horticultural Garden Club to Mrs. E. P. Crenshaw, Atlanta. The wild flower award was given by Mrs. R. G. Gentry to Mrs. W. W. Douglas, second for unusual garden.

The best scrapbook was judged to be that of the Rose Garden Club, Atlanta; second, House and Garden Club of Columbus; third, Perennial Club of Columbus. Honorable mention was given the Atkins Park Club, Atlanta, and Vineville Club, Macon. Mrs. T. Stewart, Macon, announced the awards.

In the final address of the convention, H. Harold Hume, of Gainesville, Fla., claimed the neglect of the vast plant life of Georgia for gardens of the state as a fundamental mistake.

"There is often as much as 500 per cent difference in teachers' salaries even when teachers have the same amount of professional experience and
